Motion Picture Editor: As I am a constant reader of your column I saw this morning where G. H. asked who played the leads in "Madame Coquette" and the answer was Harry Myers and Rosemary Thelby. I beg to correct it as it was Brinsley Shaw instead of Harry Myers. Could you please tell me when and where the picture called the "Little Grey Lady" will be shown?

I want to express my opinion on having a popular players' contest. I think

CLASS B.

The replies to The Harald's popular picture play contest are pouring in—and they prove some interesting things. They prove first of all, that when the people of Washington only pay is cents to see a picture show they do not expect a bill of more than four resis. Many of the coupons are marked in this way. One of them, which comes from a man in the northwest section, states "three recis for 5 cents—six resis for 10 cents." It is also interesting to note that the comedies are universally liked—also the drimma, but the serial pictures are not receiving any support at all. But two coupons have special. The educational pictures and the Weekly News pictures are receiving about an equal amount of votes. Remember, that The Herald is going to take the results of this contest right up to the powers that be in the moving picture field, and we hope to be able to secure for the people of Washington just the kind of pictures they like. If you want to have a voice in it—just clip the coupon which is printed on this page several times a week and mark it with your preference. We will do the rest to see that you get what you like.
